Course Objectives:

Greek 101 is an introduction to Ancient Greek. Students develop a basic competence in the language while acquiring understanding of Greek culture.

Program of Study:

The course moves at a rapid pace and punctual attendance of ALL classes is both required and essential. You are expected to have prepared homework before coming to class. Failure to do so will be conspicuous and will affect your participation grade.

Missed quizzes can not be made up under any circumstances. Your lowest quiz score (which equals zero in the case of a missed quiz) will be dropped. Consequently four quizzes will count toward your final grade. Please save this drop until the end of the semester in case you have a family emergency or fall ill. There will be two exams. Exams may be made up only after you provide documentation that you were ill on the test date.

Attendance Policy: Attendance will be kept. You are allowed three unexcused absences in the course of the semester. Each additional absence will lower your final percentage by 1 point.
