Sociology 101 is a broad survey course designed for the first-time sociology student. It covers a wide range of topics and consists of a lecture-discussion format. The tests will include multiple-choice, definitions, and short essays. Spelling, punctuation, and grammar are important and will count in the calculation of your grade.

Each student will participate in a panel discussion and help lead the class in a discussion of the social issues under focus on that day. All final grades for this class will be a function of your rank ordering among all students enrolled in your section. The plus/minus grading system will be employed in this course.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

You are limited to three cuts in this course. Each absence after your third one will cost you one point from your final score. Being absent on a panel presentation day will cost you three points from your panel score.

CLASS STARTS PROMPTLY AT 1:05. COMING TO CLASS LATE WILL NOT BE TOLERATED!

You should do the assigned readings in advance of class so that you will be able to ask questions about the material that you want to discuss. You are strongly encouraged to ask questions, offer your own point of view and become involved in this course verbally as well as intellectually.
