Title: Wide World of Sports Business
Course number: ADV 378S/PR 378S

Description: This course will examine the sports industry and the business of sports, including professional sports, the Olympic Games and college sports, as well as agents and the empowerment of athletes. In professional sports, students will learn about the structure and operation of teams, leagues and ownership, as well as stadiums and arenas and methods by which they are financed. We will also discuss revenue sharing and how leagues maintain competitive balance. Athlete compensation and labor issues will be examined, including unions, collective bargaining, salary caps and luxury taxes.

For the Olympic Games, the class will examine the International Olympic Committee (“IOC”), national Olympic committees and local organizing committees, including the bidding process by which the IOC awards Olympic Games to local organizing committees. Revenue generation for the Olympic Games will be covered, including media rights exploitation, ticket sales, sponsorship and licensing.

In college sports, we will discuss the NCAA and its history, conferences and their member institutions, gender equity issues, and litigation and other challenges facing intercollegiate athletics. Students will learn about business aspects of the NCAA men’s basketball tournament, football bowl games and the College Football Playoff. Additionally, some of the legal and financial challenges facing intercollegiate athletics will be examined.

Lastly, the course will examine various gender, racial and ethical issues related to sports.

The course will be primarily lecture and discussion of important issues in sports business with guest speakers who are key executives in sports and/or sports media.

Objectives: The student who successfully completes this course will ideally be able to:

1. Appreciate the history of the sports industry and the impact of this history on the current shape of the industry.
2. Understand the various revenue sources of sports organizations.
3. Analyze the structure and economics of important current and past sports industry business transactions.
4. Recognize the important players in the sports industry and understand the motives for certain of their actions.
5. Understand the current challenges confronting the economic model of major professional, Olympic and college sports.

COURSE OUTLINE

Approach:

This course will be comprised of twenty-eight (28) sessions (two sessions per week), including a mid-term examination and an examination on the last day of class (December 10), with each individual session being approximately seventy-five (75) minutes in length. There will mixture of lecture by the principal instructor and guests, group discussion, quizzes and examinations, as student presentations.

Class Preparation:

1. It is expected that each student will be prepared to participate in informed and constructive discussions.
2. Reading assignments and homework must be done prior to attending class so that all students will benefit from an informed discussion of issues.
3. Students will be paired during the semester into groups of two or three, and each group will be responsible for making a video report to the class of approximately 5-10 minutes in duration on a topic related to college sports media. Any written assignments are to be typed. Spelling, grammar, and punctuation must conform to professional standards. If your presentation or assignments incorporate concepts that originated with others, you must acknowledge your utilization of these concepts pursuant to MLA citation standards.
4. CELLPHONE AND LAPTOP USE IS NOT PERMITTED IN CLASS AND ALL CELLPHONES AND LAPTOPS MUST BE TURNED OFF PRIOR TO CLASS.

Attendance:

Students are expected to attend every class, which is critical to their success in the course and the success of the course itself. As noted below, a substantial proportion of each student's grade will be attributable to in-class activities. Students should be prepared to start the class session on time. If for some reason, a student is unable to attend class, that student is expected to inform the GA via email prior to class. Being absent or late for class may result in a reduction of a student's grade for the course. If a student misses a class for any reason, it is also the responsibility of the student to be informed of the materials covered during the class. Each student is encouraged to find a "class buddy" who can share information and assignments.

Academic Integrity and Standards:

Students are expected to uphold the highest standards of academic honesty and integrity in all course activities and assignments. It is expected that there shall be no deception regarding the representation made by the student of his/her preparation, participation or performance.

Plagiarism is presenting another person's work as though it is one's own and is a form of fraud. Plagiarism includes (but is not limited to) the presentation of a sequence of words from another writer, utilized without proper attribution. It is critical that students properly acknowledge the work of others and that the acknowledgement be accurate and complete.

The remainder of the course requirements and policies relating to cheating and plagiarism are subject to the standard policies and procedures for all UT-Austin students as established by UT-Austin

University of Texas Honor Code

The core values of The University of Texas at Austin are learning, discovery, freedom, leadership, individual opportunity, and responsibility. Each member of the university is expected to uphold these values through integrity, honesty, trust, fairness, and respect toward peers and community.

Documented Disability Statement

The University of Texas at Austin provides upon request appropriate academic accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. For more information, contact the Office of the Dean of Students Services at 471-6259 or 471-6441 TTY. Also, see

Use of Canvas and I Clicker in Class

In this class I will periodically use Canvas—a Web-based course management system with password-protected access at <http://courses.utexas.edu>—to distribute course materials, to communicate and collaborate online, to post grades, to distribute assignments, and to give students online quizzes and/or surveys. You can find support in using Canvas at the ITS Help Desk at 475-9400, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., so plan accordingly. I Clicker is a device that may be purchased at the bookstore. It will be used in class, primarily for weekly quizzes, and must be linked to Canvas. The help desk can help you with this if you have any problem.

Feedback Statement (to encourage students to respond to requests for their feedback)

During this course I will be asking students to give me feedback on their learning in informal as well as formal ways. It's very important for me to know your reaction to what we're doing in class, so I encourage you to respond to these surveys, so that together we can create an environment effective for teaching and learning.

Use of E-Mail for Official Correspondence to Students

Email is recognized as an official mode of university correspondence; therefore, you are responsible for reading your email for university and course-related information and announcements. You are responsible to keep the university informed about changes to your e-mail address. You should check your e-mail regularly and frequently—I recommend daily, but at minimum twice a week—to stay current with university-related communications, some of which may be time-critical. You can find UT Austin's policies and instructions for updating your e-mail address at <http://www.utexas.edu/its/policies/emailnotify.php>.

Religious Holy Days

By UT Austin policy, you must notify me of your pending absence at least fourteen days prior to the date of observance of a religious holy day. If you must miss a class, an examination, a work assignment, or a project in order to observe a religious holy day, I will give you an opportunity to complete the missed work within a reasonable time after the absence.

Behavior Concerns Advice Line (BCAL)

If you are worried about someone who is acting in a disturbing manner, you may use the Behavior Concerns Advice Line to discuss by phone your concerns about another individual's behavior. This service is provided through a partnership among the Office of the Dean of Students, the Counseling and Mental Health Center (CMHC), the Employee Assistance Program (EAP), and The University of Texas Police Department (UTPD). Call 512-232-5050 or visit <http://www.utexas.edu/safety/bcal>.

Emergency Evacuation Policy

Occupants of buildings on the UT Austin campus are required to evacuate and assemble outside when a fire alarm is activated or an announcement is made. Please be aware of the following policies regarding evacuation:

Familiarize yourself with all exit doors of the classroom and the building. Remember that the nearest exit door may not be the one you used when you entered the building.

If you require assistance to evacuate, inform me in writing during the first week of class.

In the event of an evacuation, follow my instructions or those of class instructors.

Do not re-enter a building unless you're given instructions by the Austin Fire Department, the UT Austin Police Department, or the Fire Prevention Services office

Q drop Policy

The State of Texas has enacted a law that limits the number of course drops for academic reasons to six (6). As stated in Senate Bill 1231:

"Beginning with the fall 2007 academic term, an institution of higher education may not permit an undergraduate student a total of more than six dropped courses, including any course a transfer student has dropped at another institution of higher education, unless the student shows good cause for dropping more than that number."

You can find advice, models, templates, and other resources for designing your course syllabus on the DIIA website at <http://www.utexas.edu/academic/diia/>

Grading and Evaluation:

Individual assessment will be based on attainment of up to 100 points with the number of points assigned to each means of grading and method of evaluation as listed below:

Quizzes, class participation/attendance and student presentations	40% (40 points)
Midterm Exam	30% (30 points)
Exam on last class day	30% (30 points)

In-Class Quizzes shall be given by use of the I Clicker. It is expected that a quiz will be given each Wednesday on the reading materials that were assigned for that week in Sports Business Journal. Those in attendance on the date the quizzes are given will receive a minimum of 1 point for participating in the quiz and receiving a minimum of one correct answer on that quiz. Please note that you will not be able to participate in the quiz unless you have your I Clicker device with you in class. Also please note that unless you are in attendance, you will not be able to earn points from that day's quiz toward your final grade. Therefore, attendance is very important.

Midterm Exam. A Midterm exam shall be given on October 24. It will consist of a number of multiple choice, true/false and similar type questions and will cover material assigned and lectures given through the date of the exam.

Last Day Exam. An exam shall be given on December 10, the last day of class. It will consist of a number of multiple choice, true/false and similar type questions and will cover material assigned and lectures given throughout the entire semester.

Grading

Course grades will be made according to the following grading scale:

Under the plus/minus grading system of the university, grades will be calculated as follows: 100-93, A; 92.9-90, A-; 89.9-87, B+; 86.9-83, B; 82.9-80, B-; 79.9-77, C+; 76.9-73, C; 72.9-70, C-; 69.9-67, D+; 66.9-63, D; 62.9-60, D-; 59.9-0, F.
