COURSE OBJECTIVES

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the basic concepts of politics and to develop their abilities to communicate knowledge of the subject matter through written and oral English. During the course of the semester we shall examine writings of some of the great minds of Western civilization as they relate to the fundamental issues of politics. We shall examine these writings with a critical eye to attempt to understand that which they share in common and that on which they differ. At the least we shall attempt to come to grips with the fundamental questions of political thought and political life. Ultimately, we shall attempt to grasp the answers, if any, given to these fundamental questions in the works we study.

TEXTS:

Sophocles: THREE TRAGEDIES, Grene & Lattimore, eds. (Chicago)
Plato: APOLOGY and CRITO, West, trans. (Cornell reprints--see Ms. Rigney to buy copies)
Aristotle: THE POLITICS, Lord, trans. (Chicago)
THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW (Cambridge)
Locke: THE SECOND TREATISE OF GOVERNMENT (Macmillan)
Marx & Engels: THE COMMUNIST MANIFESTO (International Publishers)
Ibsen: FOUR MAJOR PLAYS, v. 2 (Signet)
Shakespeare: THE TEMPEST, (Signet)
The New York Times (daily)

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

Two announced in-class tests will be given during the course of the semester. These tests will be given during regular class periods and will count for a total of 25% of the student's final grade. Any unexcused absence from a test will result in a grade of zero for that test. The scheduled dates for these tests are February 3 and April 11. In addition, two take-home essay tests will be given and count for 25% of the student's final grade. The first take-home test will be due in class on March 7. The second take-home test will be due in class on April 23. A comprehensive final examination is scheduled for 9:00-12:00 on May 3, 1997. The final exam will count for 15% of the student's final grade. In addition, there will be not fewer than seven unannounced quizzes given during the course of the semester. The average of these quiz grades will count for 25% of the student's final grade. These quizzes may be given on any scheduled class day. Students will also be required to read the international and national news in The New York Times daily, as well as such editorials and columns which may be assigned by me. This material will be covered on the quizzes! The remaining 10% of the student's final grade will be based upon the quality of that student's participation in class discussion. All examinations, tests, and quizzes are cumulative.

MAKE-UP WORK:

The requirements listed above are comprehensive and inclusive—no "extra credit" will be allowed. An unexcused absence from any quiz, test or examination will result in the grade of zero for that quiz, test or examination.

ATTENDANCE:

Students are expected to attend class on a regular basis. Students are also expected to arrive for class on time. Students who are not in class are unable to participate in discussion and take quizzes. In addition, students who miss more than four classes will lose the benefit of the doubt in the calculation of his or her final grade. Students who accumulate an excessive number of absences may be dropped from the course with a grade of WF (where appropriate).

HONOR CODE:

It is assumed that all students are aware of the Honor Code. The Honor Code is always in force! Read it and be familiar with it. When in doubt, ask first!

ASSIGNMENTS:

A tentative outline of the class schedule for the entire semester is attached. Unless otherwise notified in class (or noted on the outline), students should complete the reading assignments for each topic by the first day scheduled for discussion of the topic on the outline. For the purposes of quizzes, students are expected to have completed all readings by the first day they are due.

GRADES:

Oxford College's Optional Plus-Minus Grading Scale (as described on page 32 of the Catalog of Oxford College) will be used in determining grades for this class.

THE COURSE SYLLABUS PROVIDES A GENERAL PLAN FOR THE COURSE; DEVIATIONS MAY BE NECESSARY.
