Sociology 101 is a broad survey course designed for the first-time sociology student. It covers a wide range of topics and consists of a lecture-discussion format. The tests will include multiple choice, definitions, and short essays. Spelling, punctuation, and grammar are important and will count in the calculation of your grade.

Each student will participate in a panel discussion and help lead the class in a discussion of the social issues under focus on that day. All final grades will be based on a curve at the end of the semester. Your final grade for this class will be a function of your rank ordering among all students enrolled in your section.

CLASS BEGINS PROMPTLY AT 5 MINUTES AFTER THE HOUR. COMING LATE TO CLASS WILL NOT BE TOLERATED!

You should do the assigned readings in advance of class so that you will be able to ask questions about material that you want to discuss. You are strongly urged to ask questions, offer your own point of view, and become involved in this course verbally as well as intellectually.

CLASS ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Put simply, you are expected to attend every class meeting. Attendance will be taken on a regular basis. You have three excused cuts, after that, your final score for the class will be reduced by one point for each lecture that you skip, and three points for each panel presentation missed. Come to class and participate fully. Sleeping while in class constitutes being absent.
