

ANTH 101
INTRODUCTION TO ANTHROPOLOGY
FALL 1996

Instructor: Dr. Ina Jane Wundram

Office: Room 214B Seney

Office Hours: Mon., Wed., 11:00-12:00; Tues., 2:00-3:00, or by appointment

Textbook: Anthropology, A Global Perspective, 2nd edition, by Scupin and DeCorse

Course Requirements:

Students are expected to keep up with the material on a daily basis, reading the assigned chapter(s) before coming to class. Participation in class discussion is strongly encouraged, as is regular class attendance. More than five unexcused absences will result in a lowering of the final grade by one letter. There will be three exams given during class time and a comprehensive final exam. In addition there will be several assignments to do outside of class.

Requirements are weighted as follows:

3 exams @ 100 points	= 300 points
Human Variation Paper	= 100 points
Modern World Paper	= 100 points
Final Exam	= 200 points
Total for Course	= 700 points
